Description of the project

Po - Ethic Song

is an innovative, transnational and integrated project which combines culture and sustainable development. It aims to highlight the close link between poetry to music.

Po-Ethic Song intends to identify, nurture, attract and support the talent and creativity, at a European level, of poetry in the music by connecting artists of the countries participating in the project through mobility grants, scholarships, research and exchange of artistic performance. Professional development and artistic experimentation are the pillars of the project. Participants will be invited to perform to create, search, learn a new source of cultural exchange and emotion of poetry into music. Immersed in contexts and in sublime scenery like those of Euganean Hills. In his original and unique approach, the project is an initiative of concept that aims to mobilize new and old talents and creative organizations towards a European network to multiple layers in which the artists and the public are invited to share ideas and projects which contribute to the excellent development of the cultural scene of each country in each place.

It will involve the economic, social, cultural and human development, creating new products and services for the development of new friendly cultural places, environmentally responsible.

The idea is to promote the duplication of the event everywhere in Europe and to ensure the transfer of good practices.

The project will respond to the objectives of the Creative Europe program:

- By supporting the capacities of the cultural sector to act at a transnational level through the transfer of skills between partner organizations
- By developing digital skills and new forms of work organization

Objectives

- By experimenting with new forms of cooperation, contribution and economic model
- By developing an original approach to develop attendance and audience
- By promoting circulation and the transnational mobility of professionals and artists
- By creating a traveling event
